Greetings from WISH!

Washington Intern Student Housing (WISH) is a unique intern housing program and a thoughtful choice for students who seek a community of interns while in Washington.

For over 20 years, WISH has hosted interns working for the U.S. Congress, the Supreme Court, the White House and all Federal Agencies, as well as the Smithsonian Museums, the Pentagon, newspapers and media networks, law and lobbying firms, embassies, associations, non-profit organizations, and more.

WISH also hosts University programs that reserve buildings for their students on a semester or yearly basis. Colleges that would like a presence in Washington without the difficulty of maintaining short-term, furnished housing are perfect partners with WISH. A list of university partners can be found on the WISH web site, www.internsdc.com

All locations house only interns. Students stay with other interns who are studying and working in Washington, exploring the Nation's Capital and furthering their careers. They have a chance to meet others at the WISH Welcome Reception, the Policy Salon, and other social functions throughout the semester.

WISH furnishes intern townhouses and apartments in the historic Capitol Hill district, near all the government buildings, museums, shops, restaurants, and Metro. WISH also offers housing in the Woodley Park neighborhood of Northwest Washington, just two blocks from the Woodley Park/National Zoo/Adams Morgan Metro. Meeting rooms, offices and parking spaces are also available.

Move in with a suitcase! WISH provides internet access, cable TV, full kitchens free laundry facilities and cleaning service. Students bring linens and personal items. The Woodley Park center includes amenities such as 24-hour security, RA's and a Residence Manager. WISH hospitality includes orientation services, full-time maintenance staff, and 24-hour emergency phone contacts.
